A photograph of a modern, minimalist building constructed from light-colored concrete. The building features a grid of small, circular holes or indentations across its facade, creating a textured, perforated appearance. The structure is composed of several rectangular volumes of varying heights and widths, with some sections featuring recessed rectangular openings. The building is set against a clear, solid blue sky. The word "People" is overlaid on the right side of the image, followed by a short teal horizontal line.

Our principles

“Principles connect your values to your actions; they are beacons that guide your action, and help you successfully deal with the laws of reality.

It is to your principles that you turn when you face hard choices.”

Ray Dalio

Be an independent thinker

This is the only way to build a special and lasting business. Fads disappear over time, strong results last.

---

Be transparent

Decision-making is based on ideas. There is no room for ego or hierarchy.

---

Conclude

Unfinished work is temporarily equal to unexistent work. Get rid of the excesses, keep the essential.

Be the manager of your own time

Give the “compound interest” of work a chance to add you a non-linear value.

Be irreplaceable

Being diligent, hardworking and technically capable is fundamental, but only the starting point, as they are replicable traits. To have a real edge, we have to go beyond.

---

Do what’s right

Big or small, your attitudes shape the image of who you are and influence the people around you. Stay true to your principles and pass them on.
